Lectures from MIRCIM 2016: Prof. Bhaskar Dasgupta

Refresh your knowledge on PMR and how to manage it by reviewing this MIRCIM 2016 lecture by Prof Bhaskar Dasgupta from the Southend University Hospital. Not only will Prof Dasgupta be delivering a lecture again at MIRCIM 2017, but he is also leading the clinical workshop "Ultrasound in rheumatology: small joint examination course", which will take place on Thursday May 11th, 2017 as part of the satellite events programme.

Join us on Thursday, May 11, for an evidence-based medicine (EBM) conference and workshops “EBM and clinical practice guidelines in contemporary healthcare” led by Prof. Gordon Guyatt, the author of the concept of EBM. The conference is free for MIRCIM participants!

Kraków: A unique blend of rich heritage and modern vibe

MIRCIM 2017 will take place in one of Europe’s great cities – Kraków, Poland. Experience Europe’s largest medieval market squares, soaring churches steeped in history and a fairy-tale castle overlooking the river. This article outlines a few of the main attractions to help plan your stay.

MIRCIM Venue: ICE Kraków Congress Centre

A world-class course is not complete without a world-class venue to host it. The 3rd McMaster International Review Course in Internal Medicine (MIRCIM 2017) will be held in the stunning ICE Kraków Congress Centre. Click here to learn more about this impressive venue.

McMaster Textbook of Internal Medicine available for free

McMaster Textbook of Internal Medicine is the first Canadian textbook of internal medicine developed at McMaster University, the birthplace of EBM. Created by nearly 500 physicians and researchers from North America and Europe, it is a unique combination of experience, pragmatic approach, and accessibility. While still in development, the textbook already offers access to first chapters as well as interviews, lectures, and discussions with medical experts. Many chapters and videos were developed by past and future MIRCIM speakers.
