WELCOME MESSAGE

Dear colleagues, dear friends,

Alpe – Adria cardiology meetings are among the major scientific events in cardiovascular medicine in Central European / Alpine region concerning progress in clinical medicine and research. Scientific programme will offer an excellent opportunity to all the specialists interested in cardiovascular medicine to present their scientific work as well as exchange their experiences. We are confident that the scientific program, consisting of plenary lectures, symposia and free communications, will maintain high scientific standards of the previous meetings. In order to achieve all this, we have invited many internationally outstanding experts from Alpe – Adria, European in broader sense as well as North American countries.

To maintain high standards of organization of the Alpe - Adria meetings we decided again to organize the congress in the largest tourist resort in Slovenia, close to the Italian border. Portorož - the Port of Roses - with its renewed congress facilities at the Bernardin Convention Centre provides us with an excellent possibility to organize such a meeting and I do believe that everybody will benefit not only from the scientific and professional point of view but also socially. Although Slovenia is one of the smallest countries in Europe, it has an extremely varied and beautiful landscape, ranging from the snowy Alps to the blue Adriatic Sea, and from the barren Carst to the fertile Pannonian plain. As we like to call it, Slovenia is a land at the sunny side of the Alps.

Looking forward to welcoming you also personally.

Prof. Miran F. Kenda, MD, PhD, FESC, FACC, FAHA
President of the Slovenian Society of Cardiology and Chairman of the Meeting
