

Leading European Nephrology

e-Newsletter for National Societies n° 2, March 2015

ERA-EDTA invites you to circulate this announcement among all members of your Society

Do not miss this exciting, in-depth satellite Course (London, UK, May 26-27, 2015, <http://www.era-edta2015.org/en-US/satellite-meetings>) – registration dead-line March 26, 2015!

TNT Renal is the first international course in clinical nutrition for nephrologists designed by the International Society of Renal Nutrition and Metabolism (ISRNM) and it is endorsed by ERA-EDTA. This Course will be held, as a satellite event to the ERA-EDTA Congress (London, UK, May 28-31, 2015) on May 26-27, 2015 at the ExCel London Centre. A tuition fee is required.

Read More

Results of the 2nd survey sent to the National Societies: “What is nephrology in your Country?”

We are pleased to circulate the results of the last survey that ERA-EDTA has prepared and sent to the National Societies. This clearly shows that within Europe the time of training to become an internist or nephrologist varies in a wide range. These results will be one of the topics of discussion of the Meeting that will be organized between ERA-EDTA and the National Societies in London during the next ERA-EDTA Congress (May 28, 2015), Click here to view the results (further details will be discussed in the meeting).

Translate the ERBP Guidelines!

ERA-EDTA invests through ERBP a substantial amount of effort and money in the production of (European) guidelines on the management of patients with kidney disease. We aim at producing high quality, scientifically rigorous and clinically relevant guidelines. ERA-EDTA and ERBP want to stimulate the dissemination and implementation of this guidance as much as possible. Therefore we have started to translate the guideline into 22 different languages, and this thanks to the support of the national societies represented in the ERA-EDTA society. There are several reasons why such a translation is warranted, and why the role of the national societies is indispensable in this process:

Read More

ERA-EDTA for National Societies

